Beaverdam Man Denies He Wanted to Harm Anyone

E. R. Augsberger, 26, farmer of near Beaverdam, who has been living at 125 E. Circular-st, the charge of conspiracy in criminal court Thursday and was bound over to the Allen-co grand jury.

This action followed his arrest by Detective Ward Taylor who was investigating an alleged attempt to blackmail a young man with a recently acquired fortune of $10,000.

It is alleged by police that the desire to make the acquaintance of a woman caused the farmer to devise a mythical blackmail and to attempt to carry it thru to completion.

Augsberger, in a full confession to Taylor, admits his connection in the affair and tells how he planned it would be carried out. He denies, however, that he had any intention of blackmailing anyone.

NOTE SENT

At 11 a. m., the confession says, Augsberger sent a note by an unidentified colored man to Tony Monzello, 207 E. Wayne-st, asking him if he wanted to make a couple of hundred dollars. If Monzello was willing he was to send the girl Augsberger had seen that morning to the latter's home in E. Circular-st.

NOTE IGNORED

"Do you want to make a couple of hundred dollars. All right I want you to send one of the girls you have to 125 E. Circular-st, about two o'clock this afternoon. There is a young man lives there that just inherited $10,000. We are going to get some of it. All the girl as got to do is get a little sweet on him and he will pay the price, so his wife wont find it out, he wont go to the police about it because I have something against him that he wont want the police to know, you do this Tony or I have a little something against you that you wouldn't want the police to know. The girl can let on as tho she is selling something so she can get into the house, his wife wont be home this afternoon. He has about $1,000 in the house, the girl can use her brain about that, do this or leave town.

(signed) A Friend."

Monzello ignored the note, police said, and later in the day received another letter from Augsberger in which the latter demanded that the girl be sent to the corner of Union and Market-sts within a half hour or the police would be tipped off.

"Get that girl down at the corner of Union and Market street in one-half hour, that fellow will be waiting there for a friend, the same girl that was there today. He has a sheep skin coat on."

Monzello called police who after going over the situation obtained the consent of Mrs. W. P. Garver, the woman mentioned in Augsberger's letters, to help in the capture of the farmer.

Augsberger was to be dressed in a sheepskin coat and was to have details of the plan ready for discussion, police learned. After drilling Mrs. Garver in the part she was to play, they went to the meeting place.

A few minutes after Mrs. Garver took her place on the street corner Augsberger appeared and was taken into custody by Taylor. Later in the evening the farmer confessed to his part in the affair.

FARMER MARRIED

Police say that Augsberger is married, his wife and three children living on the farm near Beaverdam. They also assert that a number of advertisements from matrimonial bureaus were found in his pockets. These told of beautiful, wealthy women who are seeking attractive [illegible]

OIL PROBERS DIG UP NEW MYSTERY

Puzzling Code Words and References to Persons Read In the McLean Telegrams—"Underwood" and Willis Among Names Mentioned

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — While the oil committee was uncovering several new elements of mystery in the affairs of Edward B. McLean, a groundwork was laid in the senate today for a further excursion into the operations of E. L. Doheny, Harry F. Sinclair and others.

The committee listened to the reading of another batch of telegrams exchanged between McLean in Florida and his employes in Washington and decided to summon before it A. Mitchell Palmer who was attorney general under Wilson and who acted for McLean in the oil inquiry.

Many of the telegrams contained code words and mysterious references to unidentified persons who moved behind the scene of events here as they related to the interests of McLean. Two of the names mentioned were "Underwood" and "Willis." Senator Walsh, immediately told the committee that Senator Underwood, a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination never had sought to use his influence on behalf of McLean and Senator Willis, of Ohio ,issued a statement saying he had no idea as to the identity of the man mentioned in the telegrams as "Willis."

TAX PROBE PROPOSAL

On the senate floor, meantime, Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tenn., introduced a resolution asking Coolidge to forward to the oil committee the income tax returns of Doheny and Sinclair, for examination as to possible further payments to A. B. Fall. Action went over.

Another resolution also laid on the table temporarily, was presented by Senator King, Democrat, Utah, and called for information as to claims filed with the treasury for tax recoveries. The move is a part of the effort to uncover the complete story of the employment of former government officials in cases argued before the governmental departments.

In addition to examining the McLean telegrams the oil committee heard testimony from Karl C. Schuyler, of Denver, who related again the details of Sinclair's agreement to pay a million dollars to the Denver group holding conflicting claims in Teapot Dome.

In telegrams read today John Major, a McLean employe here, reported to McLean that he was busy with Underwood, Curtis and "Zev."

"Zev" was understood by committeemen to refer to J. W. Zevely, personal counsel for Harry F. Sinclair.

Ira Bennett, editor of the Post, telegraphed McLean on January 3, that he and Major saw "Curtis" who promised to see "Lenroot."

"Curtis advised us," the telegram said, "to see Underwood." "We saw Underwood who promised to speak to Walsh, but he hinted that it would not do any good."

In placing the telegrams in the record the committee members made no announiement of identification of the persons referred to, leaving the public to draw its own conclusions.

A telegram signed "Johns" sent to McLean said "Willis" saw "Party this morning."

"Willis reported Party in friendly mood," the message said, adding, "Harry is out of city."

EXPLAINS AS TO UNDERWOOD

"Before proceeding," interrupted Senator Walsh, "I desire to say that Senator Underwood called a few moments ago on the telephone and said he had read something in the the newspapers this morning that he had endeavored to dissuade me from my purpose to subject Mr. McLean to examination, a conclusion drawn from some of the telegrams read yesterday.

"Senator Underwood never attempted to influence my conduct in the matter in anyway. I have no recollection of Senator Underwood speaking to me on the subject except that one morning in the senate chamber he asked me if I had any objection to having inserted in the congressional record a letter to me by Mr. Palmer and I s[illegible] I had not.

"Senator Underwood in his conversation with me thi. morning said further that [illegible] the request of Mr

DAUGHERTY STILL DEFIANT

Refuses to Resign Before Given Hearing by Probers

WASHINGTON — (United Press) —Administration leaders will put Attorney General Daugherty on trial before some congressional tribunal without delay.

After he has had a hearing, President Coolidge will ask him to resign, on the advice of his closest political lieutenants.

From official sources, it was learned today that this is the president's present intention regarding the attorney general who left Washington with dramatic suddenness yesterday, leaving behind him a defi to his enemies, in which he said:

"It is not my purpose even to consider tendering my resignation as attorney general, until after a fair hearing on charges preferred against me."

Whether Daugherty will be investigated by a senate committee under the Wheeler resolution, or called to the bar of the senate in impeachment proceedings, is to be decided today.

According to committee members, some of these telegrams will show that McLean's employes told him that A. Mitchell Palmer, former attorney general, was going to ask Oscar Underwood now a presidential candidate, to try to persuade Walsh not to call McLean.

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — Harry M. Daugherty, attorney-general of the United States, arrived here today ostensibly in connection with the federal grand jury investigation of the veterans bureau. He refused to add to his previous statements relative to the oil inquiry at Washington.

The attorney general said he had no public statement to make and did not know that he would have any before late in the day.

That he expects to continue to hold his place in the cabinet was indicated when he stated that the was here on government business and expected to remain until that business was completed.

What he might say later, Daugherty indicated, probably would be in connection with the government action in veterans' bureau case but he indicated that what the senate oil committee might do, or announce would have some bearing on what he might have to say himself.

Daugherty said he hoped to uomplete the government business promptly so that he might go direct to Miami, to join his wife, who is there for her health.

POLICE HEAR MAN WANTED IS ARRESTED

Clyde Collins, Named by Monica Ganshaw, is Captured

EXTRADITION NOT LIKELY

Story of Hardships Recalled by New Information

Clyde Collins, one of the men who Monica Ganshaw, 16, of 132 S. Park-st, says forced her to go with them to Rockwood, Tenn., has been arrested by the authorities of that city.

This was learned Thursday when Chief of Police T. A. Lanker received a telegram from the chief of police of Rockwood informing him that Collins has been arrested by them.

Miss Ganshaw, in a statement to police, told of being forced to go to the southern city by James Hobart Rogers, her husband, and Collins. Rogers was rooming at the home of Mrs. Scott Harris, 132 S. Park-st, where Monica has lived since she was six years old.

MARRIED BEFORE

Immediately after her marriage to Rogers and a honeymoon to Rockwood she discovered that he had been married before and that he had never obtained divorces from his former wives, she asserts. It was then she decided to leave him.

Rogers had returned to Rockwood and Miss Ganshaw delayed any action until his return. On Feb. 1, while she was walking thru the Public Square, she was stopped by Rogers and Collins who, she says, had just returned from the south.

They forced her to go to Rockwood with them and on the trip she was subjected to many hardships. Arriving in Tennessee she discovered, she said, that each was wanted by police, Collins for escaping from a prison and Rogers on check charges.

Later she escaped, wired her foster parents and returned to Lima Feb. 20.

Local police will probably permit Kentucky authorities to retain Collins in their custody and will not attempt to bring him here to answer Miss Ganshaw's charges, it was said.

MAN SHOT AS RESULT OF DEMAND FOR TIP

NEW YORK — What was described as a negro elevator operator's demand for a tip resulted in a shooting affray in a fashionable West Side apartment house early today.

Charles Brennan, who had been a guest in a ninth-floor apartment was shot and seriously wounded. Fred Chester, who had been visiting another apartment, was knocked unconscious b a pistol. Frank Capel, the elevator operator, was arrested in one of the apartments, whose occupants, two youths, also were held for harboring him, altho they protested he had compelled them to protect him at the point of a gun.

Brennan said an altercation arose when the negro demanded a tip for taking him to the ground floor in the elevator. Chester was unacquainted with Brennan but said he rushed to his aid [illegible] seeing Capel draw a gun.

WHOLE CITY TO GET HOSPITAL PLEA

East Side to Start Petitions Friday Regarding Site

City wide circulation of 30 petitions asking city commissioners to aid in securing a plot of ground on the east side for the proposed $650,000 hospital will be started Friday by east side residents.

At a mass meeting Friday night at E. Elm-st and Shawnee-av fire station approximately 75 residents voted to extend their energies in having the east side designated as the home of the new institution. question of placing petitions in circulation was decided at the meeting presided over by S. G. Parks.

Two sites on the east side are proposed but the petitions will not designate any one site, asking that commissioners recognize the east end as the only feasible place in the city for erection of the new hospital.

Commissioner J. J. Rankin and Fire Chief Mack are sponsors of sites. Commissioner Rankin proposes the purchase of five acres of land in the old driving park on Bellefontaine-av and Fire Chief Mack advocates the purchase of property adjoining the present hospital on E. Market-st.

Circulation of petitions and other activities of residents will be under supervision of an east end hospital site committee composed of Commissioner J. J. Rankin, S. J. Parks, Captain W. B. Wilcox, C. W. Daley and Emery Dougherty.

COMMITTEE WILL VOTE ON IMMIGRATION BILL SOON

WASHINGTON — The senate immigration committee reached the voting stage today in its consideration of proposed legislation to supplant the existing immigration law, which expires next July 1.

The principal change contemplated in the new proposals — substitution of the 1890 census figures on the foreign population for those of the 1910 census as the basis for computing the 3 per cent immigration quotas, has aroused considerable opposition. The 1890 census basis is provided in a bill now before the house immigration committee, which in addition would reduce the admission rate to two per cent.

2 STUDENTS ARE FOUND DEAD

Murder and Suicide Suspected in Pennsylvania City

POTTSTOWN, Pa., — (Associated Press) — Thomas Shenton and James Warnikessel, students at the Wharton School of Finance, University of Pennsylvania, were found dead from bullet wounds in Shenton's room at the Y. M. C. A. here today. A note found in the room indicated a suicide pact but the positions of the bodies caused the police to investigate the theory of murder and suicide.

Warnkessel's body was found at the door of the room, clad in his overcoat. His hat was on the head and a scarf across the face. There was a bullet wound in the chest and temple. Powder marks on the temple indicated that the shot was fired at close range.

Shenton's body, fully dressed, lay on the bed. There was a bullet wound in the head. A pistol lay beside the body. The note said that neither had anything in him to be proud of and that both were tired of living. Warnkessel, it said, tried to kill himself with overwork, but could not succeed. Both were too good pals to die separately, the note said.

AKRON AGAIN HAS STREET CARS

Agreement Between City and Company on Fares Reached

NEW FRANCHISE GRANTED

Protest Made by Many Against the Bus System

AKRON — (Unitd Press) —The rubber city today gave up its plan of rubber tire transportation.

Street cars thrown out Febuary 1, as a result of a franchise squabble, resumed service as rapidly as ice and snow packed down by heavy busses could be removed from the streets.

City-wide motorization, dream of Mayor R. C. Rybolt, has failed.

Council has entered into a 15-month agreement with the local traction company. The temporary franchise provides for a five-cent fare plus a one-cent transfer charge.

Street cars started operation this morning under this agreement. Meantime, council and the Northern Ohio Traction and Light Co. will negotiate for a permanent franchise.

Simultaneously the city council repealed its ouster ordinance, under which street car service was suspended February 1.

The permanent franchise proposal as yet not drafted, will be submitted to a referendum vote.

FIRST SERIOUS BLOW

Mayor Rybolt's motorized transportatio nexperiment received its first serious blow early this week when inspectors for the state public utilities commission began disqualifying approximately 200 buses whose drivers had not complied with the new state bus law.

Later 200 women marched to city hall where council was in special session and demanded a return to street cars.

Numerous civic organizations protested the bus system. Retail merchants in the downtown district said shoppers were unable to get to the stores and that the plan was hurting business.

Until the last few days Mayor Ryboldt held his council in line and it supported his position that the bus plan should be made permanent.

WORK ON TAX BILL SPEEDED UP

Final Vote on Measure is Expected Tomorrow

WASHINGTON—(Associated Press)—Attacks on the revenue bill were resumed today by the house with leaders pressing hard to conclude reading of the measure for amendments by tonight and get to a final vote tomorrow.

Miscellaneous excise taxes were in order after a vote today on an amendment providing for cuts in the taxes on automobile trucks and tires, parts and accessories. Little contention has developed over the excise taxes, many of which were thrown out by the ways and means committee in framing the bill and the main fight of the day centered in the effort of the Democrats to have their income rate schedules, already voted into the bill, made retroactive for one year in place of the amendment put into the measure by the Republicans providing for a flat 25 per cent reduction on the 1923 income taxes payable this year.

Negotiations yesterday by the Republican organization and insurgent leaders for a compromise income rate schedule that could command enough votes to remove the Democratic rates from the bill on the final vote failed of definite agreements, but the way was left open for further meeting today.

WOMAN MAY BE CHOSEN FOR SEAT IN CONGRESS

NEW ORLEANS — As members of "old regular" political organizations gathered today to consider a candidate for the vacancy in congress created by the death of Congressman Garland Dupre, last week, Mrs. James M. Thompson, daughter of the late Champ Clark of Missouri, appeared to be favored for the place by many.

Altho Mrs. Thompson, who is the wife of James M. Thompson, publisher of the New Orleans Item, and himself prominent in politics, has made no statement regarding becoming a candidate, it is known that she has a liking for politics and would not be averse to serving her district in Washington.

DECLARES MANY COLLEGE STUDENTS GAMBLERS

CHICAGO — Large numbers of college students are drunkards, gamblers, and illiterate, Albert Parker Fitch, former professor of history at Amherst college, declared in a speech to the National Educational Association convention here.

"They are dull because they won't study," he said.

"They think they are sent to college to learn to make money or prepare for matrimony.

"They read trothy stories, are strong on card games, gossip and athletic contests. Religion means nothing to them. They are a product of our modern society."

CHARTER NOT REVOKED. ASSERTS MAJOR HUME

Revocation of the state charter for Company G, 148th Infantry, Lima unit, is denied by Major Frank Hume, who holds the rumor as without foundation.

Enlisted strength of the organization existing since 1870 is above that required by the state and the record of the company has been praised by army inspectors, which indicate, according to Major Hume, that the company will continue to function.

OHIO GROWERS DON'T USE THEIR MARKET, RIDGE SAYS

Fruit and vegetable growers of Allen-co have an unusual opportunity for the development of their own markets, says H. J. Ridge, county farm agent.

Outside cooperative producers, taking advantage of the fact that Ohio farmers are not organized into cooperative associations, ship their fruits and vegetables into the state and thus crowd home products off the market. If Ohio farmers would organize they could undersell their outside competitors, Ridge says.

Figures point out the fact that put of 1257 cars of apples unloaded at Cincinnati in 1922 only five were Ohio-grown. Out of 1901 cars unloaded at Cleveland the same year only 40 originated in Ohio. A similar condition exists in the potato consumption in the state. Not an Ohio car was among the 3447 unloaded at Cincinnati.

GIRL INDIGNANT AT ACCUSERS

New York Banker's Wife Resents Attack in Court

CALLED PAL OF GAMBLER

Sued by Mate for Annulment of Marriage

NEW YORK — "Just wait until it's my turn," exclaimed Mrs. Elaine Lee Harris today, angry under the persistent assault against her girlhood character made in the supreme court by counsel for her banker husband, Beverly Harris, who is suing for annulment of their marriage.

Mrs. Harris was restrained with difficulty by her counsel from interrupting the trial when witnesses for the plaintiff persisted in declaring she was the "Susie Lee" of Memphis, Tenn., who lived and traveled with the gambler, Ell Raynir.

Twice the pretty defendant who claims to be a descendant of an historic Lee family, owner of a line of Mississippi steamboats, jumped to her feet in indignation, pounding the counsel table, as witnesses made damaging statements concerning her youth.

"Sit down." Judge Wasservogel admonished her and after her counsel had whispered to her and calmed her, Mrs. Harris subsided.

Her husband's counsel is seeking to prove that she fraudulently led Harris, a former vice-president of the National City Bank, into marriage, misrepresenting herself and concealing her past.

Further depositions and witnesses for the plaintiff were to be heard before George Gordon Battle opens the case for the defense.

MERCHANTS REPORT BIG SALES FOR DOLLAR DAY

Thousands of shoppers Wednesday thronged Lima stores for the first Dollar Day sale of the year. Buying was distributed with all merchants reporting heavy sales from early morning until the late afternoon closing hour.

PREACHER IS HELD UNDER MANN ACT

Former Pastor at Mansfield Arrested in Jamestown, N. Y.

WITH PRETTY CHOIR SINGER

Girl is Taken by Authorities as Witness

MANSFIELD — (United Press) —Rev. Frederick Harold Johnson, missing from Mansfield since his former congregation at Pilgrim church raised a purse to send him to a missionary convention at Buffalo, was arrested at Jamestown, N. Y., late yesterday, charged with violating the Mann act, according to word received here.

With Rev. Johnson at the time of his arrest was Miss Pearl Daubenpeck, 24, pretty choir singer, whom Mrs. Johnson had taken into her home. Pearl disappeared February 13, the same day that Rev. Johnson left town. She is held by Jamestown police as a witness, local authorities were notified.

WIFE TALKS

Mrs. Johnson, left with her 18-months'-old baby, is willing to forgive her husband, she said today, if "he returns as a prodigal."

"I am a victim of my own kindness." Mrs. Johnson said. "I took Pearl into my home. Now she has taken my husband.

"My husband must come back to me as the prodigal son came back," said Mrs. Johnson. "As for Miss Daubenpeck, she must get right in her heart before she can be right."

Johnson resigned from Pilgrim church, a mission in one of Mansfield's industrial sections, recently. Mrs. Johnson formerly was a mission worker at Ellis Island. She met Johnson in New York and they came to Mansfield to live. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Duda, live here.

CABLE DISAGREES WITH HUGHES

Lima Congressman Takes Issue on Immigration Plan

LIMA NEWS BUREAU
ALBEE BUILDING
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Maintaining that the so called "agreement" between this country and Japan by which natives of the country do not emigrate to the United States should be written into law, Representative John L. Cable, of Lima, Ohio's chief advocate of immigration restriction, today took issue with Secretary of State Chas E. Hughes on the latter's suggestion that Japanese as well as other nationalities should be admitted under the pending changes in immigration quotas.

Cable also expressed his opposition to a proposal of Hughes that aliens entitled to enter the United States under the provisions of a treaty should be allowed to do so without the quota provision, declaring such an exception would "virtually break down" the restrictive provisions of the immigration bill.

Hughes questioned the general use of 2 per cent of the census of aliens in this country in 1890 as a basis for new immigration quotas, but expressed the opinion that it might be made applicable to countries like Japan, while Italy's quota might be laid on the same percentage of the 1910 census.

In reply Cable pointed out that provisions in the pending bill permit resident aliens to leave the United States and return within a year without being counted in the quotas of their respective countries and to bring in specified members of their families outside the quotas.

"This would permit Italians to offset in numbers the cut in their quota because of the change in the census year," the Lima congressman said.

Experience As Nurse Causes Mrs. Fleming to Endorse Tanlac

Practical Nurse for 16 Years Tells of Recovery, Thanks To Tanlac—Recommends It to Patients.

"I would never have believed any medicine on earth could help me like Tanlac did," is the precise statement of Mrs. Celia Fleming, 1915 Addison St., Berkeley, Calif., a practical nurse of sixteen years' experience.

"In 1904 a serious operation weakened my system so I never saw a real well day until I took Tanlac three years ago. I never seemed to be hungry, my stomach was so disordered I could scarcely retain a thing I ate and I lost weight till I was almost a shadow. I was very anemic, and shattered nerves and sleepless nights contributed even more to my already miserable state.

"Tanlac built up my appetite and digestion wonderfully and every single ailment went away. Then with returning strength came a 22-pound increase in weight and from that day three years ago my health has been splendid. I recommend Tanlac to many of my patients, for it is indeed a remarkable medicine."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 40 Million bottles sold. Accept no substitute.

Coconnut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this cannot possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. Two or three teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. adv

WORKERS TO OWN GREAT BANK

Employes to Run California's Largest Institution ...

PLAN NOT FOR EXECUTIVES

Everybody From Junior Office Boy up Gets Chance

SAN FRANCISCO — (Associated Press) — Control of the Bank of Italy, California's largest banks in financial resources and eighth ranking financial institution in the United States, gradually is to be passed to its employes, it was announced recently by A. P. Giannini, the president. This step, he said, would be epoch making in bank management.

Giannini started the bank 20 years ago as a small one-room affair. Today this San Francisco bank has 75 branches thru California, with deposits exceeding $300,000,000. The bank has 485,000 individual depositors.

The Bank of Italy has more than 2,000 employes, most of whom now own stock, according to Giannini, but his plan will assist every employe in obtaining additional stock holdings with the definite aim of eventual control passing to these workers. This is declared to be the first time a large banking institution has endeavored to turn over its affairs to employes.

Giannini was the first man in America to develop state-wide branch banking to a great success. He will retire from the presidency of the bank Oct. 17 next, when he will become chairman of the executive board. His resignation, he said, was to relieve him from banking detail, to "give the younger fellows a chance" and to allow him time to work out the profit-sharing ownership plan.

"I am convinced," he explained, "that the day has come when those who create and upbuild an enterprize should own it. My plan is not for the benefit of big executives. It is all for our workers. My plan is for every office boy and junior clerk entering this institution to know it is possible for him to share in all the profits of the bank and for himself to reach the presidency by his own efforts and ability."

In the last year Giannini has given of his employes places on the board of directors.

"The worker in a bank more often than not makes a better director than an outside business man," he added. "The worker is in constant touch with the banking situation."

Giannini is 51 years old. He started as a poor boy in California, working his way up from laborer to the ownership of a small commission business. When he was 31 he retired with a fortune, having built up the largest commission house handling produce on the Pacific Coast.

He turned over the commission business to the workers who had been associated with him; they were permitted to buy the business thru its profits. But the young commission broker did not remain idle for long. Some friends suggested that he start a bank.

Giannini said he always had insisted on having the stock holdings of the Bank of Italy widely distributed. The bank now has more than 14,000 stockholders.

THEFT OF 60 CHICKENS REMAINS UNSOLVED

POTATO YIELD GROWING PER ACRE IN COUNTY

Allen-co potato growers wishing to lower the cost of production by increasing the yield per acre are now in increasing numbers adopting certified seed according to H. J. Ridge, county agent.

Ridge said Wednesday Allen-co farmers who used certified seed last year have secured increased yields and potatoes of bigger size and better quality than in the case where home-grown diseased seed was used.

Four hundred and seventy-five bushels of certified seed were used last year, Ridge said. This year Allen-co farmers will order a carload to be delivered early in April. This order will be sent in next month.

ACTRESS TAKES OWN LIFE

Vallie Martin Swallows Poison in New York Home

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—Miss Vallie Belasco Martin, an actress and short story writer, formerly of Seattle, took poison and died in the Riverside Drive apartment of her mother today.

She left a note saying her act was due to her inability to obtain a stage engagement or dispose of any of her stories. She wrote that she was disgusted with the way dramatic employment agencies had wasted her time.

She came from Seattle in 1917, and played in "Very Good Eddie", a musical comedy, several years ago.

She was 25 years old.

Bennett he had said something to me about whether we were going to ask the appearance of Mr. McLean, and that I told him I had already been arranged that I was going to Palm Beach and take the testimony of Mr. McLean.

Senator Underwood having said that that conversation had taken place I suppose it did, but I have no recollection of it at all."

Resuming its reading, the committee heard the text of a telegram sent by McLean from Palm Beach on Christmas Day informing Major he had a "tip" he would be called in the oil inquiry and ordering that Palmer be asked to represent him.

On December 26, McLean instructed Major to tell Wilton J. Lambert, his attorney, that he had asked Palmer to see the oil committee.

In another message McLean instructed Major to keep "all my wires in your possession."

On December 28, McLean sent a telegram to E. W. Starling (a secret service man) at the White House asking him to send this telegram to "Wilkins" at Hopkinsville, Ky.: "Leave at once for Palm Beach. E. B. McLean."

Hopkinsville is Starling's home town.

Later Major wired McLean that "Willie is in full possession of matters."

The same message said Charles Berhans, was leaving Washington for Palm Beach that night and that "The Duck" would leave later.

Many Aided By Gland Tonic Scientist Explains Action At Hunter's Drug Store

Many Tell Marvelous Experiences, Striking Examples Brought to Light in Case of Faurot Theatre Director

Walter Ellis Jaxon the scientist who was brought to Lima to explain Pepgen, the new gland tonic is an author of considerable note. He has written several interesting volumes on "Health Preservation."

Mr. Jaxon comes to Lima direct from the Pepgen Labratories. In an interview yesterday he said: The success of Pepgen is largely due to its effect upon the glandular system. It expels bile, increases the digestive fluids and stimulates the blood purifying process.

"By its action Pepgen will relieve such conditions as dizzy spells, sleeplessness, nervousness, constipation and headaches. It is not a laxative, but will so build up the digestive organs as to enable them to do their own work.

"Pepgen is different from any other propriatary remedy now on market. Hundreds have been promtly relieved by it when everything else had failed.

"A striking example of this is shown in the cause of Mr. Louis Miko, Orchestra Director of Faurot Theatre.

"When I went to Hunter's Drug Store," said Mr. Miko, "to get my first bottle of Pepgen I was in such bad shape that I could not retain anything on my stomach.

"Everything I ate would disagree with me.

"I had become very nervous. I would not get a good night's sleep for days at a time. In the mornings I would wake up with a headache and a sour nasty taste in my mouth. I felt drowsy and worn out all the time.

"Pepgen has changed this. I am now in fine shape.. Just a month ago I began taking Pepgen, and before the first bottle was gone I noticed I was better. I have now finished four bottles, and I am now in better health than I have been in five years.

"This medicine has done me so much good that I want you to tell anyone that wants to know about Pepgen to come to see me."

CAUTION: The genuine Pepgen, which Mr. Miko has recommended is packed in a white, blue and gold carton. It may be obtained in Lima only at The Hunter Drug Store 49 Public Square and Corner Main and Wayne Sts. and The Argonne Drug Store. There is a Pepgen store in every nearby town.—Adv.

LUCAS FAILS IN REVELATIONS

Declines to Tell Court Who Sold Him Whisky Supply

James Lucas, 35, convicted of illegal possession of whisky, again failed to come thru when brought into probate court for sentence Thursday.

Wednesday night he indicated that he was ready to "spill," but Thursday took a brace and refused to divulge where the whisky came from, or to admit sales.

"I have the goods on you, Judge Hamilton told him, "I can bring the men in who will swear they bought liquor from you and got beastly drunk."

Save to assert the whisky was purchased from a Toledo rum runner, Lucas had nothing to say concerning the source. He had started previously that he bought it from an Italian. He was sent back to jail.

UNGRATEFUL COP

LONDON — A West London traffic policeman was straightening out a rush-hour jam. A well-dressed woman sauntered out to where he stood. "I'll 'old this arm up, Ducky, and you can 'old the other up, yourself," she said. But the cop couldn't see it that way. And the judge agreed that only a wee bit too much Scotch could have prompted such extraordinary kindness.

DANGER IN THIS

CONTENTION between the members of the legislative committee given authority to reconvene that body without restriction as to its actions after again coming together, and Gov. Donahey, who alone has authority to convene the law making body for a specific purpose is affecting a proposition submitted by a Lima man.

Auditor of State J. T. Tracy is very much committed to the proposal made by T. D. McLaughlin, Lima architect, for the erection of a tower over the old capitol building, to provide additional office space for state departments, and is conducting a campaign among members of the legislature for the adoption of the suggestion. Attorney General C. C. Crabbe, a member of the commission, is also reported to be very favorable.

In view of the fact that it will be necessary for the general assembly to change the Hunt law, authorizing the expenditure of $4,000,000 for the purchase of a site and the erection of an offce building, if the Lima man's plan is accepted, it is unfortunate that the Republican legislature by its action some months ago defeated a purpose it probably seeks now—that the governor call the body into special session, for a specific purpose.

Fearing that they would be unable to control the body after being reconvened, the Republican legislative committee hesitates—in fact refuses to act. After being manhandled by the law makers, the governor has no desire to bow to their request now. Those who played politics to the limit in the last hours of the general assembly, are now pleading for the elimination of politics. They thought they had Gov. Donahey hamstrung and hog tied but in reality they have themselves trussed up.

While delay in a legislative session will defer action on the office building project, those acquainted with the details of the situation are not prone to blame the governor, but rightly place criticism at the door of the majority party.

GUARD AGAINST EXTREMES

ABRAHAM LINCOLN as a boy and young man studied far into the night by the flickering light from a fireplace, doing problems in arithmetic with chalk on a shovel. Much of his wisdom and future greatness originated there by the log fire.

We sometimes wonder how much studying Lincoln would have done at night if he had owned a radio set. Being decidedly human, he undoubtedly would have wasted a lot of time amusing himself with concerts coming mysteriously thru the night.

Radio in moderation is not a waste of time. It provides the entertainment necessary for relaxation, in which the brain's batteries recharges themselves. All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy. But not as dull as all play and no work.

Many hundreds of thousands of radio bugs devote the entire evening to their receiving sets—even losing needed sleep. They enjoy it, but it gets them nowhere. Some of their radio time could be profitably devoted to studying how to become fitted to hold a better and more responsible job.

The answer in the majority of cases, of course, is that if their spare time weren't monopolized by radio, they'd be wasting it in some other way.

The writer pleads guilty to being one of the people inclined to carry radio to excess, thereby wasting valuable time that could more profitably be used for self-improvement. But radio is not alone in this matter. Back of it all is a fundamental law: Extremes meet, and the best things can be carried to extremes.

Economy is a virtue. Carried to extremes, to stinginess, it is a vice. Liberality is commendable, but developed to its logical conclusion makes one a spendthrift. Wise is the man who works hard, foolish the man who works too hard. "Sharp dealing" and cunning, carried to extremes, easily can become dishonesty.

So it goes. You like polite people, but there is such a thing as being annoyingly courteous. Fine sentiments are commendable; an extreme tendency this way becomes sickening. We're not sure that it is possible to be too good, tho James Whitcomb Riley once brilliantly described a certain man as a fellow without a single redeeming vice.

Common sense is in moderation, sticking to the middle of the road, carrying nothing to extremes.

—BY DR. WILLIAM BRADY—

CAPITAL COMPROMISE

It's a poor sport who won't meet you half way, as the dealer remarks when he finally consents to allow $128 on the old bus you had decided to turn in at $850, and some such equitable compromise should compose the differences—to give 'em a polite name—which agitate the atmosphere so often these days when folks who want fresh air are inconsiderately housed together with folks who don't.

The dilemma is a conventional two-horned affair: Is it a draft? And anyhow doesn't it endanger life and limb? Taking one horn at a time, and that must be the left, you see, you are pretty certain to lose your hold and let the dilemma get away from you no matter how firmly you grasp the darned thing.

The main trouble with a draft is that, like the socalled "cold," if or when you've trapped it you discover that it isn't one at all. No two individuals have ever been known to agree precisely upon a definition for a draft or a "cold." That's the beauty of these ideas for debating purposes—it is impossible to corner an opponent.

The comparatively admirable hygienist, author, and I think authority, Rosenau, in his "Preventive Medicine and Hygiene" (Appleton,) page 893 makes a brave attempt to define drafts, beginning about where our good friend Dr. Noah Webster wisely observes that a draft is a current of air and washes his hands of the matter. Dr. Rosenau tells us that when a current of air at the temperature of 55 to 60 degrees F. moves at the rate of one mile an hour there is no perceptible draft. This might seem like shaving a fine point, but to clarify the argument further I will suggest that we omit the word perceptible and then we'll get better sense out of it. Then Dr. Rosenau (who is professor of preventive medicine and hygiene and director of the school of public health at Harvard) elaborates to this effect:

Air moving at 1.5 feet per second (one mile an hour) imperceptible.

Air moving 2.5 feet per second 1.7 miles an hour—barely perceptible.

Air moving 3.0 feet per second (2.0 miles an hour) perceptible.

Air moving 3.5 feet per second (2.3 miles an hour)—draft.

So you see, even Dr. Rosenau, painstaking and precise man of science tho he be, succeeds only in confusing the issue, for his description of these degrees of perceptibility implies that an air current may be perceptible yet not a full fledged draft.

That's what I think, too, only more so. I look upon Rosenau's textbook as one of the top shelf classics, indeed it is the authoritative work on the subject but as the foregoing shows, the poor man is as sadly confused on the draft and "cold" question as any mere layman could be.

But take my advice, lay folk, and let this dilemma alone. When the thing invades your office, shop or home do not get excited and quarrel over it. Let the open window enthusiasts and the closed window boneheads contribute each a part of the price of some cloth window screen, set the screens in the window and everybody go back to work satisfied, for this compromise does solve the problem. The unbleached muslin admits fresh air and light and excludes everything else except burglars.

JUST FOLKS

—BY EDGAR A. GUEST—

THE WEATHER

The weather is a thing which we Could never do without,
It's something all society
Can safely talk about.

It has no friend to answer back
Or even wear a scowl,
No one your judgment will attack
If you should call it foul.

If of the weather you should tell
The very worst you know,
And prove your dreadful tale as well,
No farther would it go.

No eager gossip hearing you.
Would hasten to repeat
The scandal you had started to
The neighbors down the street.

No little woman's face would pale,
No wounded man reply
That you had crushed him with your tale
Or stabbed him with a lie.

So when to gossip you're inclined,
When something you'd abuse,
The weather, not your fellow kind,
Is always safe to use.

WOMAN AILING FOR A YEAR

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Happy Results

Newcastle, Pa.—"I was all run-down and everybody thought I was going into a decline. I had been ailing for a year with pains in my right side so that I could hardly stand on my feet. When I walked I felt as if something was falling. I was not able to do any work and had a nurse most of the time. She spoke to me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I gave it a fair trial. Some women think one bottle should cure them, but I did not stop at that. I took more and got better, and am able ever since to do my own housework. There was a time, when I would complain of not feeling well, that my husband would say, 'Go to the doctor.' But now he will tell me to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's, and it has always helped me. I have had druggists tell me that they had something better, but they don't tell me that now, for I take no other. I have been taking the Vegetable Compound now for five years. Any woman who cares to call or write, I will be glad to tell her how it helped me."—Mrs. MABEL LIST SHERBAHN, 515 Newell Ave., Newcastle, Pa. For sale by druggists everywhere.

PROBE INTO DRY BUREAU ASKED

Jersey Senator Attacks Prohibition Enforcement Methods

INEFFICIENCY IS CHARGED

Speaker Claims Evidence of Contempt for Public

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Declaring the accidental shooting of Senator Greene of Vermont, during a chase of suspected bootleggers by a dry law enforcement squad was "typical of the methods pursued by the national prohibition department," Senator Edwards, Democrat, New Jersey, urged in the senate today that a thoro investigation be made of the federal enforcement agencies.

Such an inquiry, he said, should also determine whether there was foundation for charges of gross inefficiency made against the prohibition bureau by "nationally prominent friends" of the 18th amendment.

Senator Edwards spoke in support of his resolution empowering the senate judiciary committee to conduct the proposed investigation and asserted that the "deplorable tragedy which prompts the resolution, places the inquiry far from personalities and partisanship."

"SINISTER ASPECT"

"I have been waiting patiently," the New Jersey senator said, "for someone who advocates straight out prohibition to take official cognizance of this latest evidence of contempt for the public in the alleged effort to enforce a law that is not enforceable. I do not understand the studied silence on the part of those in authority. To me it has a sinister aspect.

"Is the law to enforce the 18th amendment so much more sacred than laws to enforce other amendments that those charged with its enforcement may without regard to the public, engage in pistol duels with law breakers, alleged or real, in a place where hundreds of people pass to and fro at all hours? Is the 18th amendment so much more sacred that our national prohibition department is justified in violating the fourth and fifth amendments to enforce it?"

Those who place the prohibition amendment above all others in importance "are riding to a fall," Senator Edwards declared.

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, and William Dudley Foulke of the Civil Service Reform league were quoted by the New Jersey senator, as friends of prohibition who have publicly criticized the present status of enforcement.

Light Produced By Man's Body

PARIS — (Associated Press) — Interesting tests of a medium claimed to possess a mysterious luminosity—the emission of blue light rays with radiographic properties—are announced by Dr. Gustave Geley of the Metaphysical institute here. The medium is an Italian named Erto, brought to Paris recently for a more searching examination after experiments in Italy had failed to solve the question whether the subject's peculiar properties were natural or produced by some artificial means.

Dr. Geley claims that he subjected Erto to the most rigorous tests. The medium was stripped and examined and then clad in seamless trunks and hose and put under the x-ray to make sure he had taken nothing internally which might act as a source of luminosity.

Dr. Geley was aided in his experiments by Dr. Charles Richet, noted member of the academy of medicine. The examiners declare that Erto, when placed in a darkened room, appears to be surrounded by a kind of halo while every now and then a clearly defined fan-shaped ray of light is projected from the left side. Occasionally, also, a cone of light appears above the head. It is claimed that this light passes thru opaque objects and that photographic plates in sealed boxes had images registered on them when developed as if they had been exposed in a camera in daylight.

CRABBE RENEWS ATTACK PROHIBITION CARD MEN

COLUMBUS — State prohibition department stood at bay and on the defensive today as Attorney General Crabbe renewed his attack on the department's system of "card" enforcement agents.

Prohibition Commissioner McDonald refused to see newspaper men, but gave out word thru Deputy Commissioner Frank Evans that a statement would be issued later in the day. Evans refused to make any comment or answer questions.

Charles Earhart, counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, which was primarily responsible for the "card" officers, was at prohibition department to consult and presumably to advise with McDonald.

Earhart, like McDonald and Evans, however, refused to make any statement to explain the authority under which the "card" men act.

"Why don't you ask Crabbe," asked Earhart, when asked where in his opinion, there was any law authorizing card men. "Well that's his opinion," he replied when told that Crabbe had already stated there was no legal authority for them and stood ready to back up his statement with a formal opinion.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 30c.

Attorney Kept Money Without Right, Charges Say

Charges made by George Fowble, Dayton, that Francis W Durbin, had unlawfully retained $376 50 turned over to him to lift mortgages from two cars, are being aired in a suit now on trial before a common pleas jury.

Fowble, is the father of Art Fowble, alleged Don Juan, who was committed to Toledo workhouse by Juvenile Judge Hamilton, after several young girls had told stories of night rides, drinking and misconduct

He asserts Durbin telephoned him to send $376 50 to pay off the mortgages on two cars, property of his son, which were about to be sold. The money was sent, he asserts, and the cars were sold but Durbin then claimed the money as part of an attorney fee.

Durbin, according to D W. Henderson, counsel, will show that the plaintiff wrote to him telling him to apply the money on his fee, if the son did not settle.

"This is an attempt to blackmail me," Durbin declared Thursday.

Selection of a jury to try the case, was completed at noon Thursday. Members of the jury are Mrs Rowena Hartman, R H Rex, Harley King, Jeff Baxter, Burt Cole, William Brown, Minnie Thomas, William Binder, Rose Dayman, J. W. Redd, S E. Steiner, A. H. Deck.

TAX DODGING CHARGE TO BE INVESTIGATED

A sweeping investigation of county-wide character into the extent of hidden wealth that is escaping taxation will be commenced when the board of review holds its initial meeting in the near future.

Attention of the failure of scores of person to report jewelry, furniture and other article will bes called to attention of the board by County Auditor C R Phillip.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart,

I would like for you to answer a few questions for me.

What does K. A C C I Y h m m. D mean or stand for?

Do you think the hoops are coming back in style?

Will bell bottom pants be in style or what will?

What are the styles going to be for the young girls?

What colors are going to be worn?

Will bobbed hair be out of style this summer?

Will patent leather slippers be worn this summer?

How is my writing?

BROWN EYED

OTHER than that the letters you mentioned are letters in the alphabet, I know nothing of what they mean or stand for.

No. You will find that most of the dresses, both sport and evening gowns, are very tailored and rather simply fashioned.

Men's trousers are being worn wide and somewhat "baggy" at the present time and the bell bottom style of trouser is seldom seen.

One piece tailored dresses are considered very good style for young girls as they are for the older women. Tricotine, alpace and flannel are splendid materials for one piece dresses and either vests or waists are usually worn with them. Striped materials are very good for the young girl. Skirts and sweaters will also be in good style. Tan, blue, green and the black and white combinations will be good colors this spring and summer.

No.

Yes, the patent leather slippers with the colonial buckles are considered very good.

Good.

Dear Miss Smart,

As I am a daily reader of your column I am coming to you for advice. I am 15 years of age and am very much in trouble. There is a certain young fellow four years my senior who I think a lot of and he does of me. We have been going together for over seven months and now my father has begun to lay down the rules and it hurt my feeling. Don't you think he should not have let me go in the beginning? I wasn't the kind that wanted to go all the time. I never went to church on Sunday night until after he and I started together. Now we go almost every Sunday night. Do you think it is right for my father to make us quit? Am I too young to go with boys once or twice a week? I have gone with only one fellow since summer. Is there any harm in that?

I have dark brown hair, dark brown eyes and a dark complexion. What colors would I look good in? I am five feet seven inches tall. How much should I weigh?

How is my writing?

"PET"

Sometimes, "Pet", when our feelings are hurt, we just have to forget our troubles and make the best of things. Your father is right in saying that you shouldn't go about so much with boys, but I do agree with you, that he should have forbidden you having "dates" with him, long ago. However, the thing for you to do is to realize that your father is right and that you are only 15 years of age and have plenty of time to go with the boys. And even in a year or so, when you are older and go about with boys, don't just go with one. Be good friends of the whole crowd, you will have just as good a time.

Orange, tan, red and blue would be becoming shades for you. You should weight 130 pounds.

Very neat, but a trifle small.

Dear Miss Smart

When a girl goes to a public dance and a strange man asks her to dance and after the dance he sits down and tries to talk to her, is it right for the girl to answer or what should she do under the circumstances?

After the dance, does the man thank the girl and what does she say?

Is it right to make some remark during the dance?

Does a man take a girl's arm when he escorts her back to her seat?

Why is it that I am terribly nervous whenever I am out in a crowd or any place?

Or what causes worry over any little thing?

GRATEFUL

A girl does not dance with a stranger at a public dance hall or anywhere else, or at least, she shouldn't, if she is careful of her conduct.

A man thanks a girl for a dance and he should say that she enjoyed it, also.

It is not proper to chatter constantly while dancing, but it is all right to address a few remarks to your partner.

No, he offers her his arm and she takes it until he returns her to her seat.

You are self conscious. Remember that all the rest of the people are not so much interested in you as they are in themselves. Try to keep your mind on them and not on yourself and you will overcome your bashfulness.

Sometimes your physical condition will make you feel depressed and an easy prey to brooding thoughts. Highly sensitive persons worry because they feel very little disturbance.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr James H Allen, the discoverer of Allenrhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT TO SYDNEY CARTON

Well, it's all over, old man. Paula has been here and gone. She has come into my house and held her own child in her arms while I walked up and down on the other side of the street and cursed myself as I have never cursed in all my life anyone or anything.

One moment I was afraid I would see Paula coming out the door walking away with little John, the next moment I almost wished she would, anything so she would get out of my house.

Pretty soon, however, she came out and got into her car, with an inscrutable look on her face. I could not tell whether she was going to make trouble or let things lie.

It seemed hours before I could get up courage enough to go into the house, but when I did Leslie met me quite as cordial as ever, telling me Paula had been there and that she would like to have had me come home before she left.

For a moment my knees trembled; then I sat down on a chair and managed to find the voice to ask what Paula said.

"She talked mostly about little Jack," she answered frankly, "and I was glad to be able to let her hold her child in her arms."

"Her child, Leslie!" I was stupid enough to inquire.

"Oh, of course, I know we have adopted it, but it is preposterous to try to make me think the child does not belong to Paula Perier."

"She did not say so?" I asked tremblingly.

"Certainly she did not. Women don't do those things."

"I thought they did. I always thought women told more of their affairs than men."

"Certainly they do not. Why yesterday afternoon, Jack, at the matinee Dick Summers told me all about his broken engagement, and if I would have let him he would have told me how much he loved Paula Perier."

"Then he's in love with Paula Perier!"

"Yes, I think he's more in love with her than Sidney Carton."

"Good heavens, Leslie, Sydney Carton was never in love with Paula."

"That's right; keep it up, Jack. You're as loyal to your friend as you ever were."

"You don't seem to dislike him either, Leslie."

"Neither do I dislike Miss Perier, Jack, and altho I liked her very much on short acquaintance I tell you honestly I think I like Sydney Carton more. I never could conceive of him having a grand passion for Paula Perier."

"Let's not talk about either of them any more, Leslie. I hope this whole Perier storm is blowing over."

"Was there a storm? I didn't know it." And then, Syd, that blessed woman linked her arm in mine and said:

"Come on, Jack, let's go into the nursery and see our boy."

I felt my eyes grow moist and my conscience kept saying "You don't deserve it, you don't deserve it."

Goodby, old man, until the next time.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

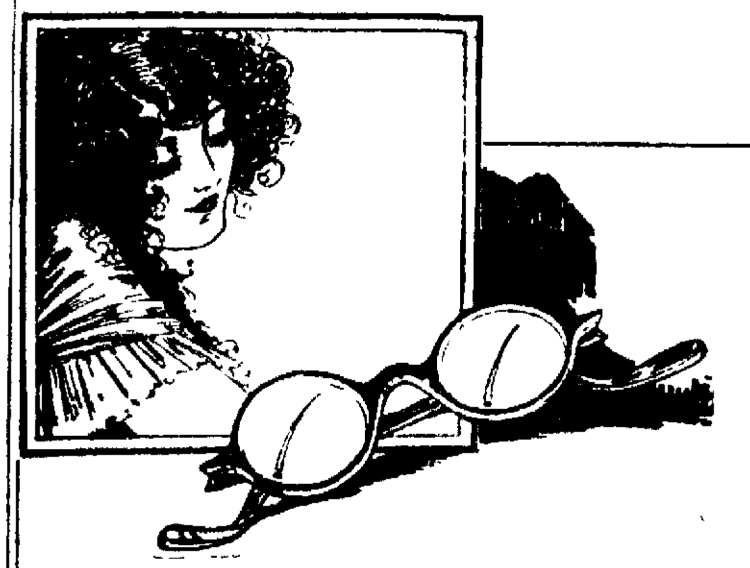

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. Then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart,

I would like for you to answer a few questions for me.

What does K A C C I Y h m m D mean or stand for?

Do you think the hoops are coming back in style?

Will bell bottom pants be in style or what will?

What are the styles going to be for the young girls?

What colors are going to be worn?

Will bobbed hair be out of style this summer?

Will patent leather slippers be worn this summer?

How is my writing?

BROWN EYED

OTHER than that the letters you mentioned are letters in the alphabet, I know nothing of what they mean or stand for.

No. You will find that most of the dresses, both sport and evening gowns, are very tailored and rather simply fashioned.

Men's trousers are being worn wide and somewhat "baggy" at the present time and the bell bottom style of trouser is seldom seen.

One piece tailored dresses are considered very good style for young girls as they are for the older women. Tricotine, alpace and flannel are splendid materials for one piece dresses and either vests or waists are usually worn with them. Striped materials are very good for the young girl. Skirts and sweaters will also be in good style. Tan, blue, green and the black and white combinations will be good colors this spring and summer.

No.

Yes, the patent leather slippers with the colonial buckles are considered very good.

Good.

Dear Miss Smart

As I am a daily reader of your column I am coming to you for advice. I am ... years of age and in very much in trouble. There is a certain young fellow four years my senior who I think a lot of and he does of me. We have been going together for over seven months and now my father has begun to lay down the rules and it hurt my feeling. Don't you think he should not have let me go in the beginning? I wasn't the kind that wanted to go all the time. I never went to church on Sunday night until after he and I started together. Now we go almost every Sunday night. Do you think it is right for my father to make us quit? Am I too young to go with him once or twice a week? I have gone with only one fellow since summer. Is there any harm in that?

I have dark brown hair, dark brown eyes and a dark complexion. What does would I look good in? I am five feet seven inches tall. How much should I weigh?

How is my writing?

"PET"

Sometimes, "Pet", when our feelings are hurt, we just have to forget our troubles and make the best of things. Your father is right in saying that you shouldn't go about so much with boys, but I do agree with you, that he should have forbidden you having "dates" with him, long ago. However, the thing for you to do is to realize that your father is right and that you are only 15 years of age and have plenty of time to go with the boys. And even in a year or so, when you are older, and go about with boys, don't just go with one. Be good friends of the whole crowd, you will have just as good a time.

Orange, tan, red and blue would be becoming shades for you. You should weight 130 pounds.

Very neat, but a trifle small.

Dear Miss Smart

When a girl goes to a public dance and a strange man asks her to dance and after the dance he sits down and tries to talk to her, is it right for the girl to answer or what should she do under the circumstances?

After the dance, does the man thank the girl and what does she say?

Is it right to make some remark during the dance?

Does a man take a girl's arm when he escorts her back to her seat?

Why is it that I am terribly nervous whenever I am out in a crowd or any place?

Or what causes worry over any little thing?

GRATEFUL

A girl does not dance with a stranger at a public dance hall or anywhere else, or at least, she shouldn't, if she is careful of her conduct.

A man thanks a girl for a dance and he should say that she enjoyed it, also.

It is not proper to chatter constantly while dancing, but it is all right to address a few remarks to your partner.

No, he offers her his arm and she takes it until he returns her to her seat.

You are self conscious. Remember that all the rest of the people are not so much interested in you as they are in themselves. Try to keep your mind on them and not on yourself and you will overcome your bashfulness.

Sometimes your physical condition will make you feel depressed and an easy prey to brooding thoughts. Highly sensitive persons worry because they feel very little disturbance.

No remedy can cure all ailments of the human body, but an immense number of people suffer from aches, pains and diseasesymptoms when their real trouble is lack of iron in the blood. It is the iron in your blood that enables you to get the nourishment out of your food. Without iron your food merely passes through you without doing you any good you don't get the strength out of it. There is one universally known tonic that has helped thousands because it contains iron like the iron in fresh vegetables and like the iron in your blood.

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT TO SYDNEY CARTON

Well, it's all over, old man. Paula has been here and gone. She has come into my house and held her own child in her arms while I walked up and down on the other side of the street and cursed myself as I have never cursed in all my life anyone or anything.

One moment I was afraid I would see Paula coming out the door walking away with little John, the next moment I almost wished she would, anything so she would get out of my house.

Pretty soon, however, she came out and got into her car, with an inscrutable look on her face. I could not tell whether she was going to make trouble or let things lie.

It seemed hours before I could get up courage enough to go into the house, but when I did Leslie met me quite as cordial as ever, telling me Paula had been there and that she would like to have had me come home before she left.

For a moment my knees trembled; then I sat down on a chair and managed to find the voice to ask what Paula said.

"She talked mostly about little Jack," she answered frankly, "and I was glad to be able to let her hold her child in her arms."

"Her child, Leslie!" I was stupid enough to inquire.

"Oh, of course, I know we have adopted it, but it is preposterous to try to make me think the child does not belong to Paula Perier."

"She did not say so?" I asked tremblingly.

"Certainly she did not. Women don't do those things."

"I thought they did. I always thought women told more of their affairs than men."

"Certainly they do not. Why yesterday afternoon, Jack, at the matinee Dick Summers told me all about his broken engagement, and if I would have let him he would have told me how much he loved Paula Perier."

"Then he's in love with Paula Perier!"

"Yes, I think he's more in love with her than Sidney Carton."

"Good heavens, Leslie, Sydney Carton was never in love with Paula."

"That's right; keep it up, Jack. You're as loyal to your friend as you ever were."

"You don't seem to dislike him either, Leslie."

"Neither do I dislike Miss Perier, Jack, and altho I liked her very much on short acquaintance I tell you honestly I think I like Sydney Carton more. I never could conceive of him having a grand passion for Paula Perier."

Let's not talk about either of them any more, Leslie. I hope this whole Perier storm is blowing over."

"Was there a storm? I didn't know it." And then, Syd, that blessed woman linked her arm in mine and said:

"Come on, Jack, let's go into the nursery and see our boy."

I felt my eyes grow moist and my conscience kept saying "You don't deserve it, you don't deserve it."

Goodby, old man, until the next time.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. Then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

I would like for you to answer a few questions for me.

What does K. A. C. C. I. Y. h. m. m. D. mean or stand for?

Do you think the hoops are coming back in style?

Will bell bottom pants be in style or what will?

What are the styles going to be for the young girls?

What colors are going to be worn?

Will bobbed hair be out of style this summer?

Will patent leather slippers be worn this summer?

How is my writing?

BROWN EYED

OTHER than that the letters you mentioned are letters in the alphabet, I know nothing of what they mean or stand for.

No. You will find that most of the dresses, both sport and evening gowns, are very tailored and rather simply fashioned.

Men's trousers are being worn wide and somewhat "baggy" at the present time and the bell bottom style of trouser is seldom seen.

One piece tailored dresses are considered very good style for young girls as they are for the older women. Tricotine, alpace and flannel are splendid materials for one piece dresses and either vests or waists are usually worn with them. Striped materials are very good for the young girl. Skirts and sweaters will also be in good style. Tan, blue, green and the black and white combinations will be good colors this spring and summer.

No.

Yes, the patent leather slippers with the colonial buckles are considered very good.

Good.

Dear Miss Smart:

As I am a daily reader of your column, I am coming to you for advice. I am 15 years of age and am very much in trouble. There is a certain young fellow, four years my senior, who I think a lot of and he does of me. We have been going together for over seven months and now my father has begun to lay down the rules and it hurts my feeling. Don't you think he should not have let me go in the beginning? I wasn't the kind that wanted to go all the time. I never went to church on Sunday night until after he and I started together. Now we go almost every Sunday night. Do you think it is right for my father to make us quit? Am I too young to go with boys once or twice a week? I have gone with only one fellow since summer. Is there any harm in that?

I have dark brown hair, dark brown eyes and a dark complexion. What colors would I look good in? I am five feet seven inches tall. How much should I weigh?

How is my writing?

"PET"

Sometimes, "Pet", when our feelings are hurt, we just have to forget our troubles and make the best of things. Your father is right in saying that you shouldn't go about so much with boys, but I do agree with you, that he should have forbidden you having "dates" with him, long ago. However, the thing for you to do is to realize that your father is right and that you are only 15 years of age and have plenty of time to go with the boys. And even in a year or so, when you are older, and go about with boys, don't just go with one. Be good friends of the whole crowd, you will have just as good a time.

Orange, tan, red and blue would be becoming shades for you. You should weight 130 pounds.

Very neat, but a trifle small.

Dear Miss Smart:

When a girl goes to a public dance and a strange man asks her to dance and after the dance he sits down and tries to talk to her, is it right for the girl to answer or what should she do under the circumstances?

After the dance, does the man thank the girl and what does she say?

Is it right to make some remark during the dance?

Does a man take a girl's arm when he escorts her back to her seat?

Why is it that I am terribly nervous whenever I am out in a crowd or any place?

Or what causes worry over any little thing?

GRATEFUL

A girl does not dance with a stranger at a public dance hall or anywhere else, or at least, she shouldn't, if she is careful of her conduct.

A man thanks a girl for a dance and he should say that she enjoyed it, also.

It is not proper to chatter constantly while dancing, but it is all right to address a few remarks to your partner.

No, he offers her his arm and she takes it until he returns her to her seat.

You are self conscious. Remember that all the rest of the people are not so much interested in you as they are in themselves. Try to keep your mind on them and not on yourself and you will overcome your bashfulness.

Sometimes your physical condition will make you feel depressed and an easy prey to brooding thoughts. Highly sensitive persons worry because they feel very little disturbance.

No remedy can cure all ailments of the human body, but an immense number of people suffer from aches, pains and disease symptoms when their real trouble is lack of iron in the blood. It is the iron in your blood that enables you to get the nourishment out of your food. Without iron your food merely passes through you without doing you any good; you don't get the strength out of it. There is one universally known tonic that has helped thousands because it contains iron like the iron in fresh vegetables and like the iron in your blood.

is an eminent physician's best blood prescription, standardized. It is recommended for all anaemic and run-down conditions. It has helped thousands of others. It should help you. Ask for it at any drug store.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every Druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenrhu, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenrhu has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenrhu, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenrhu decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. Argonne Drug Store and Green's Public Drug Store can supply you. adv

Home-made Remedy Stops Cough Quick

You might be surprised to know the best thing you can use for a cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few minutes. It's cheap, but for prompt results beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, children like it—and it is pure and harmless.

Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This will make a full pint—a family supply—costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops those annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Says the Plant Juice Made Wonderful Change in His Condition

HE GLADLY RECOMMENDS IT

"Your Plant Juice is the only medicine that ever brought me really satisfactory results and I think it is a wonderful preparation," says Mr. Stephen Lee, of 40 Belleville avenue, Newark, N. J., while talking with The Plant Juice Man at the city recently.

MR. STEPHEN LEE

"For a number of years," Mr. Lee continued, "I had suffered from stomach trouble but the last two years had been the worst. I became weak, run down and there was hardly anything that I could eat without suffering afterward from gas, terrible bloating and continual belching. I was always constipated and had to keep taking physics and my liver and kidneys were disordered. My system filled up with bile and I would have bilious attacks and had bad pains in my back and had to get up often at night because of my kidneys. I was very nervous and slept poorly.

"I'll admit that I was skeptical at first when I heard about your Plant Juice for I had tried so many different medicines without results but finally I was pursuaded to try the Plant Juice and I will say that the first bottle was proof enough for me and I continued taking it. I have now taken several bottles and a wonderful change has come over me. My bowels are regular; digestive organs have been toned up and I can eat three meals a day without gas, bloating or any misery afterward. My liver and kidneys work fine; pains have left my back and my nerves are quieted so I sleep soundly. I have new strength and ambition so that I am able to work 12 hours each day and I gladly indorse your Plant Juice."

Plant Juice is sold in Lima at Hunter's drug stores, 49 Public Square and Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office. adv

FORTUNE'S FOOL

By RAFAEL SABATINI

Illustrated by

Rafael Sabatini. Released by NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Colonel Holles, soldier and adventurer, returned to England, his native land, when Holland is declared. It is dangerous for Holles to secure a commission in the army here as the name of Randal Holles, father of the colonel, is on the warrant for the execution of the late king.

The dreaded plague is spreading rapidly in London. His Grace of Buckingham promises in some way to help the colonel. Because he is financially embarrassed, the colonel is forced to sell a priceless ruby given to him years ago for saving the life of Buckingham.

Martha Quinn, hostess of the Paul's Head, in Paul's Yard, London, falls in love with the colonel and he is forced to leave her lodging place.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"There's been two men here seeking you, sir."

Holles started in eagerness, his mind leaping instantly to the Duke of Buckingham. Observing this, the landlord, grave-faced, shook his head.

"They were messengers from Bow Street," he said. "They didn't say. But I know them. They asked a sort o' questions. How long you had been in my house, and whence you came and what you did. And they charged me at parting to say nothing about this to you. But . . . ." The landlord shrugged his great shoulders, and curled his lip in contempt of that injunction.

Holles collected himself. "Mister Banks," he said, "ye're a good friend, and I thank you. I have done nothing. Of that I can assure you. But appearances may be made to damn me. The unfortunate Mr. Tucker was an old friend of mine . . . ."

The landlord's sigh interrupted him. "Aye, sir, I thought it might be that, from something they let fall. That's why I take the risk of telling you. In God's name, sir, be off whiles ye may."

The Colonel took the man's advice, paid his score—which absorbed most of the proceeds of the jewel—and, without so much as waiting to collect what gear he possessed, he set out at once from quarters grown suddenly dangerous.

He was not a moment too soon. Even as he stepped into the gloom of the street, two shadowy forms loomed abruptly before him to bar his way, a lantern was suddenly uncovered, and thrust into his face.

"Stand, sir, in the King's name!" a gruff voice commanded him.

He could not see whether they had weapons in their hands or not, nor did he wait to ascertain. At a blow he sent the lantern flying, at another he felled the man who had advanced it. The arms of the second messenger wound themselves about his body, and the fellow steadied himself to throw him. But before that could happen Holles had knocked the breath out of the man's body by a jolt of his elbow, and, as the catchpoll's arms slackened in their grip, he was flung off and violently hurled against the wall.

The pursuit was not long maintained, and presently the Colonel was able with safety to resume a more leisurely and dignified progress. Before dawn he had reached the conclusion that there was but one thing for a man in his position to do, and that was to quit this England, where he found nothing but bitterness and disappointment. Now that the Dutch were back in the Texel and the seas open once more, there need be no difficulty, not even his lack of funds should prove an obstacle. He would ship as one of the hands aboard some vessel bound for France. With that intention he made his way to Wapping betimes next morning.

Vessels there were, and hands were needed, but no master would ship him until he had procured himself a certificate of health.

So the Colonel trudged wearily to the Guildhall, going by sparsely tenanted, darksome city streets, where he saw more than one door marked with a cross and guarded by a watchman who warned all wayfarers to keep their distance.

The extent of the panic he realized when he came at last to the Guildhall, and found it besieged by coaches, sedan-chairs, and a vast mob on foot. All here were come upon the same errand as himself; to procure the Lord Mayor's certificate of health that should enable them to escape from this stricken city.

Most of the day he waited in that press, enduring the stifling heat and the pangs of hunger and thirst. The only hawkers moving in the crowd were vendors of preventive medicines and amulets against the plague. Instead of the cry of "Sweet oranges" which in normal times would have been heard in such a gathering and which he would have welcomed, here the only cries were: "Infallible Preservative Against Infection," "The Royal Antidote," "Sovereign Pill Against the Corruption of the Air," and the like.

AT A BLOW HE FELLED THE MAN.

He could ill afford to purchase the favor of the ushers and bribe them into according him some precedence. He must wait and take his turn with the humblest there, and, as he had arrived late, his turn did not seem likely to come that day at all.

Toward evening he departed empty-handed and disgruntled. Yet within the hour he was to realize that perhaps he had been better served by Fate than he suspected.

In a sparsely tenanted eating-house in Cheapside, where he sought to assuage the pangs of thirst and hunger—for he had neither eaten nor drunk since early morning—he overheard some scraps of conversation between two citizens at a neighboring table. They were discussing an arrest that had been made that day, and in the course of this they let fall the words that gave pause to Colonel Holles.

"But how was he taken? How discovered?" one of them asked.

"Why, at the Guildhall, when he sought a certificate of health that should enable him to leave Town. I tell you it's none so easy to leave London nowadays, as evil doers are finding when they attempt it. Sooner or later they'll get Danvers for this way. They're on the watch for him, and for others, too."

Colonel Holles pushed away his platter, his appetite suddenly dead. It was in a trance, it seemed, and it was needed those words overheard by chance to make him realize it. To attempt flight was but to court discovery. True, it might be possible to obtain a certificate of health in a false name. But on the other hand, it might not. There must be inquisition into a person's immediate antecedents if only to verify that he was clean of infection, and this inquisition must speedily bring to light any prevarication or assumption of false identity.

And so he was on the horns of a dilemma. If he remained in London, sooner or later he would be run to earth by those who sought him, who would be seeking him more rentlessly than ever now, after his manhandling of those messengers of the law last night. If he attempted to go, he betrayed himself up to justice by the very act.

He determined, after much gloomy cogitation, to seek the protection of Albemarle in this desperate pass, and with that intent went forth. He persisted in it until he reached Charing Cross, when a doubt assailed him that if Albemarle should refuse to take the risk of believing his innocence considering the nature of the alleged offense? He finally determined that first he would make one last attempt to move the Duke of Buckingham.

CHAPTER XV

The Shadow of the Gallows

His Grace of Buckingham had not accompanied the Court in its flight to Salisbury. His duties, indeed, recalled him to his lord-lieutenancy in the Riding. But he was as deaf to the voice of duty as to that of caution. He was held fast in London, in the thralldom of his passion for Miss Farquharson, and enraged because that passion prospered not at all.

It was his obsession on the score of Miss Farquharson that was responsible for his neglect of the letter that Holles had written to him. That appeal had reached him at a moment when he was plunged into dismay by the news that Sir John Lawrence's orders had gone forth that all theaters and other places of assembly should close upon the following Saturday, as a very necessary measure in the Lord Mayor's campaign against the plague. Now the closing of the theaters meant the withdrawal of the lady from Town, and with that the end of his grace's opportunities. He must acknowledge defeat, or else act promptly.

He took his resolve at last and sent for the subtle Bates, who was the factotum of Wallingford House. He gave him certain commands—whose full purport Master Bates did not completely apprehend—in the matter of a house. That was on the Monday of the week whose Saturday was to see the closing of the theaters. It was the very day on which Holles made his desperate departure from The Harp.

On Tuesday morning the excellent and resourceful Bates was able to report to his master that he had found precisely such a domicile as his grace required—though why his grace should require it, Bates could not even begin to surmise. It was a fairly spacious and excellently equipped dwelling in Knight Ryder Street, lately vacated by a tenant who had removed himself into the country out of dread of the pestilence. The owner was a certain merchant in Fenchurch Street, who would be glad enough to let the place on easy terms, considering how impossible it was just at present to find tenants for houses in the City or its liberties.

Bates had pursued his inquiries with characteristic descretion, as he now assured his grace, without allowing it to transpire on whose behalf he was acting.

His grace laughed outright at the assurance and all that it implied that Bates had taken for granted.

"You're growing a very competent scoundrel in my service."

Bates bowed, not without a tinge of mockery. "I am glad to merit your grace's approval," said he dryly. There was a strain of humorous insolence in the fellow, of which the Duke was disposed to be tolerant; perhaps because nothing else was possible with one so intimately acquainted with his conscience.

"Aye. Ye're a trustworthy rogue. The house will do admirably, though I should have preferred a less populous district."

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT TO SYDNEY CARTON

Well, it's all over, old man. Paula has been here and gone. She has come into my house and held her own child in her arms while I walked up and down on the other side of the street and cursed myself as I have never cursed in all my life anyone or anything.

One moment I was afraid I would see Paula coming out the door walking away with little John, the next moment I almost wished she would, anything so she would get out of my house.

Pretty soon, however, she came out and got into her car, with an inscrutable look on her face. I could not tell whether she was going to make trouble or let things lie.

It seemed hours before I could get up courage enough to go into the house, but when I did Leslie met me quite as cordial as ever, telling me Paula had been there and that she would like to have had me come home before she left.

For a moment my knees trembled; then I sat down on a chair and managed to find the voice to ask what Paula said.

"She talked mostly about little Jack," she answered frankly, "and I was glad to be able to let her hold her child in her arms."

"Her child, Leslie!" I was stupid enough to inquire.

"Oh, of course, I know we have adopted it, but it is preposterous to try to make me think the child does not belong to Paula Perier."

"She did not say so?" I asked tremblingly.

"Certainly she did not. Women don't do those things."

"I thought they did. I always thought women told more of their affairs than men."

"Certainly they do not. Why yesterday afternoon, Jack, at the matinee Dick Summers told me all about his broken engagement, and if I would have let him he would have told me how much he loved Paula Perier."

"Then he's in love with Paula Perier!"

"Yes, I think he's more in love with her than Sidney Carton."

"Good heavens, Leslie, Sydney Carton was never in love with Paula."

"That's right; keep it up, Jack. You're as loyal to your friend as you ever were."

"You don't seem to dislike him either, Leslie."

"Neither do I dislike Miss Perier, Jack, and altho I liked her very much on short acquaintance I tell you honestly I think I like Sydney Carton more. I never could conceive of him having a grand passion for Paula Perier."

"Let's not talk about either of them any more, Leslie. I hope this whole Perier storm is blowing over."

"Was there a storm? I didn't know it." And then, Syd, that blessed woman linked her arm in mine and said:

"Come on, Jack, let's go into the nursery and see our boy."

I felt my eyes grow moist and my conscience kept saying "You don't deserve it, you don't deserve it."

Goodby, old man, until the next time.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. Then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

BIG TEN TEAMS GET INTO NERVE RACKING CAGE RA

OHIO STATE TROUNCES BOILER MAKERS 39-26

COLUMBUS — Ohio State University's basketball team defeated Purdue 39 to 26, going into a tie with the Boilermakers for second place in the Conference standing.

Bringing reminders of championship football days, Ohio State students plan to give the Buckeye basketball team a huge send off at the union station Thursday night when the quintet leaves for Minnesota and Wisconsin to wind up the season. The rally is believed to be the first of its kind in the big ten in years.

Ohio State supporters have been stirred to a frenzy of excitement by the team's feat in running its string of victories to six straight. Wednesday night the Buckeyes went after the [illegible] Purdue for second place in the Conference standing when they defeated the Boilermakers 39 to 26.

If Ohio State can defeat Minnesota and Wisconsin they have a chance for a [illegible] in the Big Ten. Minnesota [illegible] scheduled for Saturday night at Minneapolis and Wisconsin Monday night at Madison. Both have been defeated earlier in the season by Ohio State.

ADA — Ohio Northern basketball team defeated Wittenberg 26-25.

CINCINNATI — [illegible] defeated Muskingum 32-29 basketball.

HORVATH WINS OVER RIGHARDS

Johnny Horvath, of Mansfield, got a referee's decision over Blackie Richards in their twelve round bout at Dayton, Wednesday night. It was their second meeting and the second victory for Horvath. There were many who believed the decision would be reversed in this bout with the consequence that there was considerable wagering. Horvath showed cleverness all thru and proved himself the most expert in nearly every round. The verdict was a popular one.

ROCKNE FAVORS FOOTBALL

JACKSON, Mich. — The entire physical education of schools today depends upon football, Coach Knute Rockne of Notre Dame said in an address at the annual banquet of the St. John's school football squad here last night. The coach said a certain eastern college president made a grave mistake when he declared that football as played in schools and colleges of the present day benefitted no one but the coach.

"Football pays the bills for other branches of athletics which enable every boy and girl in our universities to benefit and become physically fit," the Notre Dame coach said. "But the work of our great college game does not end there, it develops a high degree of sportsmanship among the players, the students and even the spectators."

CHAMPS HAVE MANY HOLDOUTS

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL)

NEW YORK — (United Press) — Notices that they can "take it or leave it," have been mailed from the Yankee office to seven of the champions who have turned up their noses at contracts offered them.

Finding there are practically no athletes to make the scheduled start Thursday for the training camp in New Orleans, the Yankee office was moved to bear down a little on the holdouts.

Notice was given some time ago that the club would not pay the fare of men who wanted to go to New Orleans to argue with Manager Miller Huggins and that it would not assume the obligation of feeding them while they were in debate.

Wally Pipp, Ern Ward, Bob Meusel, Whitey Witt, Bob Shawkey, Sam Jones and Herb Pennock are the seven bulwarks of the team who apparently are not willing to work for the money offered them.

Ed Barrow, manager of the club, said today that all of the seven were not what he classed as real hold outs. Several of them are within a few hundred dollars of what the club wants to pay them and he suggested that something might be done about it.

Three of the players, however, are real holdouts and will not get a cent more than their contracts call for, Barrow intimated. He mentioned no names, but it is understood that Witt and Shawkey are two of them.

The Yanks, it is believed, could struggle along without Witt or Shawkey. Lou Gehrig, the heavy-hitting former Columbia star, is a club the Yankee office can hold over Pipp.

Witt, it is reported, recently, isn't crazy about playing ball any more unless he gets substantial compensation. Witt is said to have told friends he has his pile and he can find plenty of profit for his time off the ball field.

As the team prepares to open the training camp, they have one outfielder, a third baseman, a shortstop, two catchers and two pitchers.

WHITNEY NOMINATES TEAPOT

NEW YORK—Teapot, a two-year-old bay filly, will race on eastern tracks this season, carrying the colors of Harry Payne Whitney, who recently appeared as a witness before the senate oil investigation committee.

Whitney has claimed this name for the filly in papers filed with the jockey club.

WANTS ELIMINATION GAMES

CLEVELAND—Pat Pasini, athletic director of Case School has a scheme for settling the Ohio Conference basketball championship. His plan is for an elimination tourney, to be held at Public hall the latter part of March to determine the strongest team.

Pasini intends to put the proposition up to the twenty conference colleges this week. In this way, he contends, teams would meet opponents they never have been able to schedule.

Baldwin-Wallace, which is on probation, leads the conference list, according to newspaper standings. The Ohio Conference has gone on record as not approving championships and as the Bereans are on probation, some colleges believe that Baldwin-Wallace should not be counted in the unofficial newspaper per centage column.

SOUTHWORTH LANDS BERTH

BILL SOUTHWORTH

The center field problem which has caused Manager McGraw of the New York Giants much worry for several years has finally been solved by the addition of Billy Southworth of the Boston Braves.

"Southworth will be the regular centerfielder of the Giants," says McGraw. "He has no opposition for the job and will not alternate with any other player simply because he is a left-handed batsman."

'Y' Caging Five Has Added Players

Two new men will be seen with the Lima Y. M. C. A. team when it takes the floor against the Rockford Reds at Mendon Friday night. They are Warren Smith and Joe Urich, both of whom are well-known to Lima cage fans.

Smith formerly starred with Lima South in football and basketball. He recently dropped out of Ohio Wesleyan university, where he made the freshmen football team last fall. His brother Olin was captain of the Wesleyan 1922 grid team and another brother, Lewis, is center on South's basketball team this season. Smith will probably be used at one of the guards.

Urich starred with Deisel-Wemmer last year, and just recently returned from Detroit where he had been working for the last six months. He will be used at forward for the locals.

With the advent of Smith to the lineup the Lima team will have four former South stars on its squad of seven. McClain, center, starred on South's first football teams; DuPero, guard, was both a football and basketball star several years ago; Captain Emans, forward, captained South's cage team last year, and Smith has been accounted for. Selch, Cotner and Urich are remaining players on the squad.

All seven will probably make the trip to Mendon.

WINNING TEAM GOES TO STATE CLASS B FINALS AT COLUMBUS MARCH 7 AND 8.

Twelve Teams To Begin Struggle For Supremacy In Regional Cage Games

The stage is set for the first regional Class B high school basketball tournament ever staged in Lima. Play will start Friday afternoon at 3:30 when the Rockford and Gomer Hi quintets trot out on the floor at the new South Hi gymnasium, where the tourney will be held.

Twelve teams are entered in the tournament and as many games will be played. Four games are on the card for the first round, four for the second round, and two each for the semi-finals and finals. In the last round both the winners and the losers of the semi-finals will play. The twelve teams entered represent the eleven counties in this, one of the eight sections of the state.

Immediately after the first half of the Rockford-Gomer contest Friday afternoon the Rawson and Vaughnsville quintets will lock horns. At night Sycamore and Carey and Delphos St. John's and Vaughnsville will battle. Winners of these four games and the four teams which drew byes for the first round will play Saturday morning. The semi-finals and finals will be run off Saturday afternoon and night.

TWO CUPS TROPHIES

Two cups will be given the teams that force their way to the final game Saturday night. A basketball will be presented the victor in the consolation game to be played as a preliminary to the final contest. All are donations of the R. S. Marshall Sporting Goods Co.

Representing the cream of Class B teams of eleven counties, the teams in the South tournament should prove equally matched. Some hard games are billed.

Glass bankboards were erected in the gym Wednesday. New bankboards, new baskets and a new gym will make the floor new to every team entered and no one will have an advantage over its opponents by virtue of having played on the floor before.

Thiele, of Dayton, and Wilson, of Mt. Gilead, have been secured to officiate at the games. Both are college referees.

Preparations are being made to handle capacity crowds at all of the five sessions.

AS A MATTER OF FACT

Being a Criticism of the Just and the Unjust In the World of Professional and Amateur Sports

BY HARRY BRADBURY

Charley Paddock is slated for a talk to aspiring athletes at the Central Hi and South Hi Saturday night. It seems to me that every young fellow with the athletic be ewould want to see and hear this remarkable athlete, for he is the personification of the perfect short distance runner. The controversy which has taken up so much space in the newspapers between Paddock and the A. A. U. should not be taken as meaning anything in particular. Paddock proved himself not alone a wonderful athlete but a typical American gentleman. The quarrel sifted down was one between the A. A. U. and the A. C. U. He was simply fulfilling the orders of his alma mater in going to Paris to take part in the international meet. Why these athletic unions should be logger-heads is another story. To make the California boy the goat was wrong.

There should be a great deal of pardonable pride in this fleet footed fellow. There are three world's records for the 100 yards of 9.6 made up D. J. Kelly, June, 23, 1906; H. P. Drew, March 28, 1914 and Charley Paddock, March 26, 1914. The amateur record, of course, and made by the Americans. But where Paddock stands out as the swiftest amateur runner for short distances for 2,000 years is in his 220 and 300 yards, which he covered, the first in 20.8 and the second in 30.2. The most remarkable thing about the performances is that they were both made on the same day, April 23, 1921. They still stand and are liable to for many a day.

PADDOCK WAS PERSISTENT

The point most to be admired in Paddock was the fact that he did not develop into tremendous speed all in a minute. It required the hardest kind of training and the most persistent efforts. It is a lesson to the young man that everything cannot be accomplished right off the reel. There never was an athlete who jumped into prominence all in a minute; it takes days and months of the hardest kind of efforts to become proficient. So if you do not do as well as you think you should, keep on trying. In running 300 yards in 30 and 2-10 seconds Paddock was running just about 30 yards a second; just think of it; but he couldn't do this when he began training. In telling about these accomplishments I remember he stated that there were times when he felt like giving up. His trainer kept after him for he found in the boy those qualities that make great athletes. "Step high and far was his instructions, and he relates where he hit his mouth with his knees sufficiently hard to draw blood. As there is nothing accomplished without persistent efforts, in any endeavor, he did screw his courage to the sticking place; he worked and he conquered. Great precedent to follow. Determination and presistence are the cardinal principles in whatever we attempt.

ALBERT SHRUBB ANOTHER

If one looks at the record books they will see the name of Albert Shrubb. He was not a very strong boy in the beginning, and no one would have thought that he was destined to become the greatest runner for long distances the world had ever known. He was rather small and delicate for a boy of his age, but he was enthusiastic so far as athletic sports were concerned. He began practicing and he steadily improved as he worked incessantly. You will see his records from 7 to 10 miles head the efforts of all other runners. I saw him run the wonderful Indian runner Longboat at Madison Square Garden several years ago. The distance was 25 miles. It was a wonderful endurance race for human beings. I remember distinctly how the long steady strides of Shrubb impressed me, as did the Indian. They were the fleetest runners; could run all day without any visible effort. It was an object lesson of what the human being can accomplish. But in this particular instance Shrubb was unfortunate. He had purchased a pair of running shoes that did not fit him with the result that they were holes in his feet. At the time he was forced to stop and change shoes he was several laps ahead of the Indian. Before he could get his stride again, the Redskin had nearly overtaken him. Again he was forced to stop and change for his feet were in terrible shape and causing him great suffering. By this time the Indian had passed him and Shrubb lost the race, he was unable to catch the fast fleeing Indian.

But athletics are akin to manliness. Every young man in Lima will find much to interest him in Paddock's talk.

Working Out The Kinks

PITTSBURGH — Wilbur Cooper, Pirate pitcher, the only member of the Pittsburgh Nationals whose name is not affixed to a 1924 contract is in town and, according to the Pittsburgh Post, is prepared today to come to terms with the club owners. Cooper, the newspaper says, has not been asked to take a salary cut as previously reported. The difference between him and club owners was over the omission of a clause in the contract offered him this year. The pitcher said he came here from his home in Columbus of his own volition.

NEW YORK—Giant infielders and outfielders started their exodus to the south Wednesday. Frankie Frisch and Fred Maguire, infielders and James H. Tierney, club secretary compose a party which leaves Thursday for Sarasota, Fla., to begin training for the 1924 campaign. Other Giant players have been instructed to depart from their homes in various parts of the country to be at Sarasota on March 1. The pitchers and catchers are already at the camp.

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Wayne Wright, St. Louis American League pitcher who won seven out of eleven games last year, said Wednesday that the statement he made here recently that he was thru with baseball and would devote his time to completing a medical course was final. After winning six out of his first eight contests last season, Wright was sent in as a relief pitcher without much warming up and strained his back which put him out for most of the rest of the year. Wright went to the Browns from Ohio State university at which institution he has a credit for three years' medical work.

CLEVELAND — Phil Bedgood, pitcher aand Luke Sewell, catcher, are the latest additions to the Cleveland American league team hospital list at Hot Springs, Ark., where the Indians are doing preliminary training. Sewell has a blistered foot and Bedgood has a sprained ankle which will keep him in bed for a week according to advices from the Springs.

* * *

SARASOTA, Fla., — Bill Terry, former Toledo first baseman, holds first place among the rookies here trying for places on the bench of the New York Giants. Terry, for whom the Cincinnati Reds offered $50,000, smashed one over the centerfield fence Wednesday and made a mark for the sluggers.

* * *

CLEARWATER, Fla.—Zack Taylor, Bernie Neis, Bert Griffith, and Johnny Jones, are still keeping intact the list of Brooklyn holdouts. They may all get the air unless they sign, according to President Ebbetts. Dutch Reuther has advanced so far in his training that he has been ordered out of work.

* * *

CATALINA ISLAND, Calif.—Bill Killefer, Cub Pilot, will keep nine pitchers on the squad this year, he announced. Fourteen are in training under his critical eye. Rip Wheeler, from Wichita Falls and Elmer Jacobs and John Blake, former Seattle hurlers, will fill the openings for green slab timber, Killefer indicated.

NEW YORK — Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, who underwent today a minor operation at the Polly Clinic hospital was reported tonight as resting easily. The operation was said to be entirely successful and the titleholder is expected to recover rapidly. He will remain at the hospital probably for a week.

CHICAGO — Chicago led the big cage percentage column today, regaining the lead by beating Northwestren 42 to 26 and by Purdue losing to Ohio State 39 to 26.

STAGE AND SCREEN OFFERINGS

ON THE SCREEN TODAY

Quilna—"West of the Water Tower," with Glenn Hunter. Majestic—"The Heart of Wetona," with Norma Talmadge. Rialto—"The Broken Silence," with all star cast.

ON THE STAGE TODAY

Faurot—Keith vaudeville and Dempsey-Firpo fight pictures. Orpheum — "Sassy Bits of 1924."

(BY GERTRUDE GILLHAM)

A STORY of small town life, filled with pathos and laughs, human interest and dramatic suspense is "West of the Water Tower," appearing at the Quilna theatre. Glenn Hunter is the star, supported by Ernest Torrence, May McAvoy, George Fawcett and Zazu Pitts.

All the characters of a small western town are in "West of the Water Tower." Aside from the roles portrayed by the principal players other clever characters drawn are the town "dandy" Cod Dugan proprietor of the pool hall, the girls from the "Happy Hottentot" of burlesque show and the village drunk.

Glen Hunter makes his debut as a Paramount star in this picture following his signing of a long contract. His next film will be an adaptation of his current stage success, Merton of the Movies."

At the Majestic

ANOTHER picture of small town life will be flashed at the Majestic on Friday and Saturday? It is "The Steadfast Heart" from the story by Clarence Kelland and has its principal players, Marguerite Courtot, Mary Alden and Joseph St...

The story deals with the fight of a boy and ... terrific handicap ... having been raised in a criminal environment. It is said to contain numerous tense situations and no end of comedy but the compelling ... of the picture is in its human appeal.

With the filing of Senator Willis declaration today the list of Coolidge candidates for delegates at large is completed. The others filed yesterday with the secretary of state by Hoke Donithen Ohio campaign manager of President Coolidge follow: Senator S. D. Fess; Attorney General Daugherty, Mrs. James ... "Bombo" at Faurot

AL JOLSON and Sgreat, big spectacular show Bambo, will play two performances at the Faurot opera house—matinee and night Tuesday next. The matinee was earnestly suggested by Manager Clark, after it was found that not half the people who were anxious to see Jolson could be accommodated at one performance. In making arrangements for the matinee it was pointed out that this is the first time Jolson has played a Tuesday matinee since he left New York. So far as the evening performance is concerned, all seats were practically sold thru orders. It is certain that fully a thousand people would have been turned away, unable to get even standing room. Jolson and his coworkers are greatly favorites in Lima and adjacent towns. Many out of town spectators will see both performances.

Faurot Vaudeville

THE usual Keith vaudeville will open at the Faurot Thursday afternoon. It is given in conjunction with the Dempsey-Firpo fight pictures, the latter coming immediately after the vaudeville at each performance thru to Saturday night.

New Program

AN ENTIRE change of musical comedy program was offered by the Sassy Bits of 1024" company at the matinee Thursday at the New Orpheum theatre. The new production for the last half of the week is "What's the Idea", heralded as an exceptionally clever bit of entertainment. The 7.30 show at the New Orpheum Thursday will be "Gold Night." Saturday, there will be a special matinee for the children. It will be "Jazzbo" Frances' party for the kiddies. A Larry Semon movie comedy will be an extra added attraction. For one day only, five acts of big-time vaudeville will be offered Sunday matinee and twice in the evening. Starting Monday, "Oh, Peachie" will be the offering for six days. "Oh Peachie" is presented by the producers of "Saucy Baby" and "Honey Bunch." two or the biggest hits ever played at the New Orpheum. the wek is "Whats th Ida,' hr

FREE METHODIST CHURCH TO HOLD CONFERENCE

The third quarterly meeting of the Free Methodist church for the conference year will begin Friday evening at 7:30 in the church at Harrison and Franklin-sts. Rev. D. W. Wesley, of Galion, will be present to conduct the services which will last over the sabbath.

Services Friday and Saturday nights will be evangelistic. Immediately after the Sunday school session Sunday at 9:30 the church will hold communion, testimony and praise services. The holy sacrament will be administered following the sermon by the district elder.

A message by the elder will be given immediately after the evening praise service Sunday. The official board of the church will hold a business session during this meeting and items relating to the construction of the church will be discussed.

ALL-AMERICAN BIBLE PROPOSED BY MINISTER

NEW YORK — An all-American Bible is proposed by the Rev. Charles Francis Potter, pastor of the West Side Unitarian church. He said today that his Modernist Bible class would hear the details at its first meeting next Sunday.

Potter cites Abraham Lincoln as having fully as great a spiritual appeal as Jesus of Nazareth to the average American; Jane Addams in the new American Bible would replace Deborah as a leader in the warfare against social wrongs; the writings of Washington, Adams and Jefferson, he declares could be preserved as the American pentateuch. Woodrow Wilson, he says is the modern "Prince of Peace," and sacrificed his life in an attempt to induce this country to enter the league of nations. Finally Potter asserts there are many American social reformers whose teachings and writings can be formed into books of an American holy writ.

REVIVALS IN PROGRESS

Special revival services are in progress at the Garden City school house near MacBeth park every evening except Thursday. Friday evening and extending over the Sabbath Rev. N. B. Herrill of Columbus, superintendent of the Ohio district of the Church o fthe Nazarene will have charge of the meetings. There will be two services Saturday at 2 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., and three Sunday at 10:30 a. m., 2 and 7 p. m.

Sleuth Takes Chicken Trail, Feathered Kind

Yeggs, bandits, bootleggers and such may get away with something now and then, police admit, but when aforesaid thieves start picking on members of the force themselves as victims they're taking in too much territory.

You can't steal chickens from the detectives, not and get away with it. According to police records one Frank Sirks, 63, of 519 1-2 S Main-st thought he could get by with it but now knows different.

When Detective Ward Taylor missed four producers of original breakfast food he started on some sleuthing in his own behalf. He says the trail led directly to Sirk's home. Entering the residence Taylor says he found four chickens. He says he could identify three of them but the fourth had been executed and its plumage removed.

Sirks is now in jail waiting trial on a charge of chicken stealing.

Police records in the above case are incomplete inasmuch as they fail to state who ate the dressed chicken.

ROUGH TACTICS GIVEN BY WIFE AS DIVORCE REASON

Pugilistic tactics practiced, it is alleged, by Willis Morton, driver, 349 E. Market-st, cooled the love of Hazel Sherer-Morton, 19, girl bride, who is seeking to obtain a decree in common pleas court.

In a petition filed Thursday, the girl-wife relates that she was married to Morton, on May 11, 1923, and about a month afterward in an altercation in a public park, he hit her with his fist. The blow floored her, and caused a bruise on her face.

Morton is also alleged to have professed his love for others, and failed to provide for the plaintiff.

Because the bride is under age, the suit is brought by A. Sherer, her father. She seeks to resume her former name, Hazel Sherer.

COUNTY CONFIDENT ROAD AID WILL BE FORTHCOMING

Dispite the fact that no promise of federal road aid for the Lima-Ottawa-rd was received from L. A Boulay, state highway head, county commissioners were confident Thursday that they will eventually obtain $80,000. They asked for $110,000 at the conference in Columbus Tuesday.

Boulay was not present at the conference, but such assurances as were given regarding the aid were made by an assistant. Commissioners were unable to learn why Boulay did not attend the meeting as promised.

LEOTA FAY HOVER, 21, O. N. U. STUDENT, DIES

Miss Leota Fay Hover, 21, Ohio Northern University student, died Wednesuay at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs. G. C. Hover, in Ada. Death followed a prolonged illness.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 12:30 p. m. at the fmaily home with Rev. J. M. Rudy, pastor of the Church of Christ, in charge. The body will be taken to West Newton, her former home, for burial.

Schwab's Optimistic Views on Business Bullish Factor

Principal Fluctuations Take Place Among Specialties

NEW YORK — (Associated Press) —Constructive forces were at work at the opening of today's stock market, initial prices displaying a firm tone. Buying was influenced to some extent by Chas. M. Schwab's optimistic statement on business conditions and the favorable nature of a number of the January railroad earnings report. Chesapeake and Ohio and Norfolk and Western each advanced about a point.

Substantial buying support continued to come into the market the advance assuming broader proportions as trading progressed. New high records were established by New Orleans, Texas and Mexico at 45 1-4 and Norfolk and Western at 111 3-4 up 1 1-4 and 1 5-8 respectively. Gains of a point or more also were scored by about a dozen other issues in the first half hour, including General Electric, Timken Roller Bearing, Corn-Products Houston Oil and Congoleum, Chesapeake and Ohio extended its gain to 2 1-4 points. Virginia-Carolina Chemical issues again turned heavy, the preferred dropping 1 3-8. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

Rallying tendencies which set in late Wednesday afternoon continued thru the morning session with trading continuing on a restricted basis. Renewal of selling in the copper shares around noon had a somewhat depressing effect on operations on the long side in other quarters.

Anaconda dropping 1 1-2 points to 32 3-8, a new 1924 low, and Inspiration dropping a point. All the standard industrials improved moderately, the principal fluctuations taking place among the specialties, American Hide and Leather preferred, Gulf States steel and National Dairy products joining the list of stocks to sell one to two points above yesterday's final figures Oils, which showed a tendency to heaviness yesterday, stiffened today on reports of further decreases in crude oil production and imports. Frisco railroad issues developed strength during the morning. Call money opened at 4 1-2 per cent.

LONDON — If you call a taxi, you'd better wait for it. You'll have to pay your fare any way, even if the driver is late and you leave before he arrives at your door. So ruled a magistrate here the other day in granting a chauffeur damages for a "dead trip." The defendant, a woman, pleaded she had to leave before the car got to her home. The driver on the other hand, said he had been delayed by a traffic jam. And his argument proved more convincing.

CORN JUMPS TO NEW HIGHS

Prices Are Carried up by Continental Demand

DROP IN RECEIPTS SEEN

Slight Changes in Wheat and Oats Recorded

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) — For the third day in succession the corn market today overtopped previous high price records of the season Today's new records were in the July and September deliveries and were reached as soon as business began Sales to realize profits led to a little reaction from the best figures but demand continued active, based chiefly on prospective curtailment of receipts. After opening unchanged to ½c higher, May 82 to 82¼, the market kept near the initial range.

Wheat and oats were firm in sympathy with corn. The wheat opening which varied from a shade lower to ⅛c advance May 110¼ to 110½ and July 110½, was followed by only slight changes during the early trading.

Oats started at ⅛c decline to ⅛@¼c gain, May 49⅝ to 49⅝@¼. Later, fluctuations were narrow.

Provisions took their cue from the corn market rather than from hog values.

Time was when the buying public bought Used Cars because the salesmen themselves were stricken with an overdose of superlatives, exaggerations and enthusiasms. MUTT AND JEFF—IT'S A REGULAR DOG'S LIFE FOR JEFF TODAY— —BY BUD FISHER

BRINGING UP FATHER BY McMANUS

SHORT SHAVINGS

THEN MOTHER TOOK A HAND!

The small boy's head bobbed up over the garden wall, and a meek little voice asked: "Please, Miss Brown, may I have my arrow?"

"Yes, dear, certainly," the next-door neighbor answered, beaming. "Where did it fall?"

"I fink," was the reply, "it's 'uck in your cat."

I'll bet my last round dollar,
He'd be just like the rest of us
And raise an awful holler.
